

INDIAN KNOWLEDGE SYSTEM (IKS): INTRODUCTORY LECTURE for all First Year Students (2024-25)

Dear FY Students,

Indian Knowledge System (IKS) holds a significant place in your curriculum, as recommended by NEP 2020. The Government of India has mandated a compulsory 2-credit generic IKS course to spread our country's rich heritage and traditional knowledge in various fields such as Arts and Literature, Agriculture, Basic Sciences, Engineering & Technology, Architecture, Management, Economics, and more. In line with this, the Government of Maharashtra has recommended a generic IKS course for UG students in the first semester.

To cater to this, our College has meticulously designed a well-curated syllabus for the IKS course, with the involvement of multiple experts.

The course will be delivered through a hybrid mode of education, comprising both in-person and online lectures through pre-recorded videos. Additionally, there will be discussion classes and doubt-solving sessions organised throughout the semester.

The IKS faculty will commence with the introductory session for the students this week in Fr. Palacios Hall (College Hall) as per the following schedule:

- 1) For FYBSc, FYBCom in Management Studies, FYBCom A Div, and FYBAF: Monday, 8th July 2024, from 3:15 pm to 4:15 pm.
- 2) For FYBA, FYBAMCJ, FYBCom B Div, and FYBSc (IT) Students: Tuesday, 9th July 2024, from 3:15 pm to 4:15 pm.

Please note that attendance is compulsory for the introductory lecture.

Let's embark on this enriching journey of exploring the Indian Knowledge System together!
